Key Elements of the Program

 Social Justice Practicum (SJP)

Students completing first-year coursework will spend eight to ten hours per week over the course of six months at an approved SJP site and must concurrently enroll in required coursework. A minimum of 200 clock hours of SJP is required. Students should contact the Manager of Community Action & Engagement, Vancouver Campus.

 electronic-Socially Responsible Practice Portfolio (e-SRPP)

Students must complete 50 hours of SRP-related programming offered by or required by the program, campus, and/or University. Students must complete Indigenous Canada prior to starting the clinical practicum. The total 50 SRP hours must be completed the term before the students sit for the MCQE.

 Clinical Practicum

After completion of all first-year coursework, students should expect to spend at least two days per week over the course of eight to 12 months at an approved counselling practicum site and must concurrently enroll in practicum seminars during their first two semesters of field experience. A minimum 700 total clock hours of counselling practica are required. Students should refer to the Practicum Handbook, on Adler Connect.

 M.A. Thesis - Vancouver Campus

Students are required to complete a research-based thesis as a capstone project of their MACP degree. Students begin the thesis process by registering for Preparation for M.A. Thesis (MACP 525). Once students register for MACP 525, they are required to continuously register in M.A. Thesis courses (MACP 526, MACP 527, and MACP 528) over the next three consecutive terms.
